*Estimated and subject to revision
() Same period previous year

(b) and (c) Yes, sir. Tea Board has launched a new project for development, production and promotion of organic tea in India. The project is aimed at development of techniques and technology for the production of organic tea in India by setting up of model organic farms. The project will develop the necessary technology to convert existing tea areas to organic tea gardens and also develop acceptable international export standards for organic tea.

Tea Board of India will execute the project at the country level through a Core Committee. Inter Governmental Group on tea of FAO and Production and Market Development and Promotion Division, International Trade Centre, UNCTAD/WTO will be the supervisory body. The Sugar and Beverages Groups of the commodities and Trade Division of FAO will be the project executing agency.

So far, targets are fixed for production of tea overall and not separately for organic tea.
